Paired Reading and Thinking

1. The two partners A and B read the text alone.

2. Partner A reads the text aloud to partner B.
   - B corrects the pronunciation.

3. A and B ask questions and talk about the text.

4. Switch roles and read the next part.

Paired Reading and Thinking

1. The two partners A and B read the text alone.

2. Partner A reads the text aloud to partner B.
   - B corrects the pronunciation.

3. A and B ask questions and talk about the text.

4. Switch roles and read the next part.
Paired Reading and Thinking II

1. Each partner (A and B) has got a copy of the reading material.

2. The two partners sit next to each other.

3. Both partners read the first part alone.

4. Partner A reads this part aloud to partner B.
   ✅ B corrects the pronunciation.
   ✅ B retells the main points.

5. A and B ask questions and talk about the text.

6. Switch roles and read the next part.

- Who . . .
- Where . . .
- Why . . .
- What are . . .
- Tell me why . . .
- How did . . .
- Give an example of . . .
- Describe how . . .
- What was the main idea of . . .
- In your own words, tell . . .
- Why do you think . . .

READING is FUN!